PREFACE

This analysis of the Administration's 1982 credit budget was prepared at the request of the House and Senate Budget Committees. It is intended to supplement the budget documents by bringing together in one place information on the credit budget. The paper reviews major proposed changes in federal credit activity during 1981 and 1982 and presents a function-by-function examination of the Administration's credit program estimates. It also discusses the integration of credit budgeting into the federal budget process.

The paper was prepared by CBO's Budget Process Unit. The first three chapters were written by Elisabeth Rhyne. Marvin Phaup and John D. Shillingburg provided useful comments. The functional chapter was written by Deirdre E. Briggs, Michael Margeson, and Mitchell I. Mutnick. Patricia H. Johnston provided editorial and production assistance. Kathie Farri and Nancy E. Wenzel typed the paper for publication.
